

The background of the image is a photograph of the South Middle School building. It is a large, multi-story brick building with a classical architectural style. The front entrance is framed by a portico with several tall, white columns. Above the columns is a pediment containing a shield-shaped crest. A large banner above the entrance reads "SOUTH MIDDLE SCHOOL". To the right of the main building is a tall, white clock tower with a green dome and a weather vane on top. The sky is blue with scattered white clouds.
