

Newburgh Enlarged City School District Parent Training

Let's Play! Learning through Play for Individuals with ASD Training by Anderson Center Consulting

This training is offered by Newburgh Enlarged City School District through Anderson Center Consulting's online learning management system.

This training is designed to provide parents/caregivers with the basic framework for how play develops throughout childhood and how that may present differently for individuals with autism. Discussion of several practical strategies and tips for supporting play development in simple ways are provided throughout the training. Parents/caregivers will also learn how to use play to help develop other critical skills, such as social, language, motor and cognitive skills. A planning tool is provided to help organize ideas for taking play to the next level!

Training Objectives:

- To develop a basic understanding of what play is and how it develops throughout childhood
- To understand how the characteristics of ASD may impact play skill development
- To gain an understanding of how play can be a mechanism for developing a wide array of skills
- To apply practical strategies to increase play experiences and embed learning opportunities within play
